SILOS LEVEL CONTROL
SILOTRONIC

SILOTRONIC

(*) Check price.

Silotronic is a sensor with laser technology that allows you to know, in real time and from anywhere, the level of feed available in the facilities.

This solution improves employees' safety by avoiding visual control from the top of the silos. Likewise, it helps to optimize feed distribution routes and times, reducing transport costs and minimizing the return of product surplus.

